INDIANA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ENDORSES
JACKIE WALORSKI FOR U.S. HOUSE SEAT

South Bend, Indiana – The Indiana Chamber of Commerce, the state's leading small business organization, announced today its endorsement of Jackie Walorski (R-Elkhart), for election to the U.S. House of Representatives, District 2. The endorsement was made by the Indiana Chamber Congressional Action Committee, the organization's federal political action committee.

"Jackie Walorski not only understands that job creation and economic growth must be top-priorities for our state and nation, but she's got a proven track record as a leader," said Jeff Brantley, vice president of political affairs for the Indiana Chamber. "Jackie Walorski will be a champion for the free enterprise system, fiscal responsibility, limited government and economic expansion."

"Indiana employers are working mightily to pull out of this recession and create jobs," explained Brantley. "Costly regulations and big tax increases for small businesses right now will kill job creation efforts. Hoosiers need Jackie Walorski in Congress to provide leadership to put economic recovery and job creation ahead of politics and government."

Jackie Walorski is challenging incumbent Congressman Joe Donnelly for the 2nd District seat in the U.S. House of Representatives. Walorski currently serves as a state representative from Elkhart.

"I'm pleased to receive the endorsement of the Indiana Chamber Congressional Action Committee and business leaders in this state," said Jackie Walorski. "Government isn't the answer to growing this economy and creating jobs. We must keep government spending in check and encourage the growth of entrepreneurship and business investment in our state and nation."

The Indiana Chamber has been the state's leading small business advocacy organization for over 85 years, representing over 800,000 Hoosier workers through nearly 5,000 member companies from across the state in all 92 counties.

Dear Representative Walorski:

It is my great pleasure to inform you that the Indiana Manufacturers Association (IMA) has endorsed your candidacy for election to the U.S. House of Representatives. The IMA represents more than a 1,100 member companies, employing thousands of Hoosiers. We are proud to support your candidacy, and we want you to win.

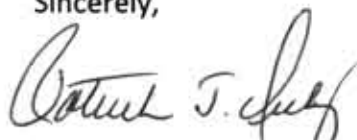

Since 1901, the Indiana Manufacturers Association has been the voice of manufacturing in Indiana, which is one of the most manufacturing-intensive states in America.

The Indiana Manufacturers Association never endorses more than one candidate in an election contest. That means we want you to win the General Election in November. We take this position based upon our research and experience with your manufacturing and business views and positions. We have long understood that Indiana's economic future is heavily influenced by the laws and regulations under which manufacturers must endeavor to create jobs and operate successful businesses. Having examined the candidates, we find manufacturing interests would best be served by your winning election to the U. S. Congress representing Indiana's Second District.

We urge all manufacturers, business persons, employers and the voters of Indiana's Second Congressional District to vote for Jackie Walorski. The economic future of Indiana depends on it.

Best wishes in your election effort. We stand ready to assist you in a successful campaign.

Sincerely,

Patrick J. Kiely
